Mitie started life as a cleaning company but now provides a range of “strategic outsourcing” services for business and government. These include building maintenance, catering, fire safety, pest control, security and, most notoriously, running immigration detention centres, where it has been accused of cost-cutting and abuse. Mitie has also been criticised for victimising and under-paying workers.

You can find recent Corporate Watch work on Mitie in the lower right hand column of this page, or by clicking here [2].

Click here [3] for Mitie’s head office address and other basic details from the opencorporates website.

Click here [4] for details of their latest profits and other financial results from the citywire website (scroll down the page).

There is also lots of useful information on Mitie’s website [5]:

Click here to find out which sectors Mitie is currently working in.
Click here [6] to find out who Mitie's directors and board members are.

Click here [7] to download Mitie's latest annual report and accounts (right hand column).

For a more critical perspective on their work, try the IWGB Trade Union's website [8].

Have a look at our Investigating Companies: A Do-It-Yourself Handbook [9] to find out how to get the information you want about a company, including how much directors are getting paid, political links and donations, which public services they are running, and how much their owners are making. It also contains a list of general, non-corporate, critical sources and guides to reading company accounts and understanding company ownership and financing.

If you would like a website added to this list, or have any other links or suggestions for this page, please get in touch [10].

Category(s):
Migration [11]
Public Services [12]

Issue(s):
privatisation [13]
Immigration Detention [14]

Source URL: http://www.corporatewatch.org/company-profiles/mitie

Links: